

Proverbs 13:12 AMPC

- Shift the energy of your desire to Him
- Do not shift your desire to the wrong thing
- God wants to meet with you on the Highest of mountain
- Say: YHWH You are my desire
- Shift the desire of your heart to Him – the tree of life will overshadow you
- Shift your desire to the riches of the glory realm
- What God opens up no man can shut
- The healing in His glory will bring healing to every broken heart
- Let your heart be restored, filled with joy, riches, glory, peace, power, goodness, mercy, prosperity, wealth, revelation

- In the upper you will meet with hope and you will arch with faith and your future
- Engage with it immediately
- Faith is the substance of things hope for and God wants to reveal the substance that can turn your life around

- God asked the prophets: what do you see not what do you know
- What you see can begin to instruct you
- God is clothing you with righteousness and He wants you to come up and see all the riches that He has in store for you
- Engage with the name of YHWH!
- Trade into the glory, with your mind, soul, body, imagination, prayers, breathe. As you trade God trades back and reveals
- Let the healing hand of God, the joy, wisdom and knowledge overshadow you. Let it become visible
- Walk through the door of hope, so faith can reveal its substance that secures your future
- Let the face of Yeshua overshadow you

- God Himself wants to uplift you – your ship is coming in
- If you have grown tired of trusting, your time is coming in
- Those that been building for a long time your breakthrough is at the door
- God gave Joseph a word and when his father thought that he was dead, his time came

- Begin to govern that what God released, mediate and translate it into your life
